The Indiana Legislators Ballot Twice Without Avail—Other Legislative News.

INDIANAPOLIS, Jan. 21.—The joint session of the legislature was again without result. Two ballots were taken, the vote standing as heretofore. The convention adjourned.

BILLS BY OUR MEMBERS.

By Mr. Barrett: To amend section 2533 of the revised statutes, touching the sale of real estate by a guardian.

By Mr. Darroch: Bill to provide for the erection of four soldiers' and sailors' monuments.

By Mr. Shambaugh: A bill concerning drainage. Also: A bill concerning the opening and widening of streets and straightening and deepening of water courses.

THREE LITTLE BILLS SIGNED.

The fruits of legislation thus far are neither rich nor bountiful. Only three measures have gone to the governor for his approval, and these, it will be seen, are not of state importance. The first, of course, was the appropriation bill providing $125,000 for the expenses of the legislative session; another was a bill to regulate the term of court in one of the judicial circuits, and the third, which was presented to the governor this morning, was a bill to legalize the incorporation of the town of Boswell, in Benton county. This measure has been approved by the governor.

GRAY WOULD APPOINT TURPIE.

Governor Gray to-day had something to say respecting the allegation in the Journal that he had been in the hotel lobbies arguing that the dead lock should be continued in order that he might fill the senatorial vacancy by appointment. "I am doing what I can," the governor said, "to elect Judge Turpie to the senate. Should there be no election I shall appoint him. I could not afford to do anything else. He is the nominee of the caucus and the choice of the party."

There are a great many republicans who are lukewarm as to Harrison. Their real choice is ex-Governor Porter, and they will make a break for him as soon as it becomes clear that Harrison's election is out of the question. It is claimed that all four of the Allen men are willing to vote for Porter. Gray, Niblack, Bynum and Holman are being talked of again, and it would not surprise anybody familiar with the situation if some of them should finally secure the prize.

REPRESENTATIVE ROBINSON.

A democrat of prominence says that Robinson has agreed to vote with the Knights of Labor so long as they have a candidate in the field, but that as soon as Allen is retired—if he is—Robinson will vote for Turpie. A brother-in-law of the obstinate Robinson is reported to have remonstrated with him for holding up the entire party by the tail so wearily. "I'm pledged to Allen," said Robinson; "come around when the Knights abandon their man."

Representative Robinson, of Clay, Putnam and Montgomery counties, is commanding more attention in the legislature than anybody else just now. He is serving his third term, and was elected by a combination of greenbackers and democrats. He is a young man, about thirty-five years of age, evidently, slightly built, with "taffy" colored hair and a drooping mustache His voice is somewhat harsh, and in speaking he wildly gesticulates. Mr. Robinson is a farmer by occupation and an original greenbacker. Circumstances are making him very important person.

RABID OPINION OF A REPUBLICAN ORGAN.

NEW YORK, Jan. 21.—The Tribune this morning says: "The control of the United States senate for two years to come has not been quite sacrificed by the surrender of the Indiana republicans, which seems at this distance to have been entirely inexcusable. It is possible, however, that they have discovered that on account of the course of four labor members it would be impossible to give a valid election to any republican candidate without waiving the right of Lieutenant Governor Robertson. Nothing else is perceived that could excuse so pityable a backdown from the strong and strictly lawful position taken by the republicans of the house on Tuesday, but the result in Indiana, whatever it may now be, is likely to be contested, and the senate by which the contest will be decided, ought in any case to be a republican body."

LINCOLN, Jan. 21.—In the joint session to-day Hon. A. S. Paddock was chosen United States senator to succeed Van-Wyck. The vote was as follows: Paddock, 94; McShane (dem.), 32; Van-Wyck, 4.

BIG FAILURE.

Postmaster Smith, of Sheldon, Fails for Something Like $3,000.

Jonas Smith, the postmaster at Sheldon, this county, confessed judgments this morning in favor of A. C. Trentman for $1,200 and in favor of Frank Shuler for $192.56. Mr. Smith kept a general store at the village and the confessions partially cover the value of his stock. Sheriff Nelson has the keys of the house and his deputies will invoice the goods preparatory to their sale at public auction.

Since the above, Meyer Bros. & Co., have obtained a judgment for $321.22 against Mr. Smith and later Mr. W. P. Breen filed suits against the bankrupt postmaster on behalf of Geo. DeWald & Co., for $400 and Skelton & Watt for $100. Besides the clames enumerated Mr. Smith owes probably $1,000 to other parties, who, of course will proceed against him. His assets are not known.

They returned the fire, killing one man and mortally wounding the other, who died at 4 o'clock this morning.

Mayor Harrison.

CHICAGO, Jan. 21.—Suit was brought in the superior court this morning against Mayor Harrison to recover damages to the amount of $20,000 for injuries received by Solomon Waixel July 5, 1885. Plaintiff claims he was standing on the sidewalk opposite the mayor's residence, while the latter was exploding fire works, and a portion of some of the pyrotechnics which the mayor was handling in a careless manner, found lodgement in his eye, causing permanent injury.

ONE DEATH

Is Added to the Railroad Strike at Jersey City.

JERSEY CITY, N. J., Jan. 21.—About five o'clock this afternoon a party of boys were playing in an open lot adjoining the yards of the Delaware, Lackawanna & Western railroad company, when a fracas occurred between the boys and Pinkerton's men and Thomas Hogan, 16 years old, a looker-on, was shot and killed by one of Pinkerton's men. The boys were jeering the Pinkerton men, who were stationed in the company's yards to protect property.

The four Pinkerton men arrested last night for killing Thomas Hogan, a sixteen-year-old boy, were arraigned in police court this morning on a charge of murder.

A LITTLE ROW.

Dr. Geo. T. Bruebach and His Divorced Wife Have a Quarrel This Morning.

Yesterday afternoon, in the circuit court, Judge O'Rourke granted a decree of divorce to Mrs. Dr. George T. Bruebach from her husband by mutual consent. She was also given $3,600 alimony payable as follows: Six hundred dollars paid over in court and $500 every six months thereafter. Mrs. Bruebach was given permission to assume her former name, Amelia Lindman.

Judge O'Rourke gave Mrs. Bruebach permission to occupy the doctor's house on Clinton street last night. She did not avail herself of that privilege and the doctor instructed his housekeeper to deny her admittance if she called this morning. The lady did call and discovering herself excluded, she promptly smashed in a window and in that way ensconced herself in her former house. The doctor appealed to the sheriff for her expulsion and Deputy Sheriff Schrader was detailed to guard the doctor's premises from his late wife, who is very pretty, but like the doctor has a mind of her own.

THE EXCHANGE.

Its First Business Meeting to Occur This Evening—A List of the Charter Members.

The Merchants Exchange meets tonight at the circuit court room, President J. B. White in the chair. This organization has come to be a permanent fixture, its purpose being to forward the interests of Fort Wayne and increase and enhance its business and mercantile resources. Into it every citizen is invited because in union and harmony there is strength and power, which if wielded properly ought to give Fort Wayne a population of 50,000 inside of a year, with a corresponding boom in every direction. The growth of this society has been against hard knocks, and its objects are to encourage trade from abroad, invite new business interests here, protect and promote home industries and stimulate life into every nook and corner of the city, until every one is talking "boom" and willing to contribute his share. Below is submitted a list of charter members:

A Righteous Decision.

Chief Justice Zollars, of the supreme court, rendered the following decision in regard to the killing of stock by a railroad and damages therefor:

"Action for damages for the killing of a horse by the railroad company's locomotive. It was shown by the evidence in behalf of appellee that at the point where the horse went on the track and was killed the road was not securely fenced. The burden was then for the company to show, in order to escape liability, that at that point it was not bound to maintain fences. (101 Ind., 597). Such an action may be brought before any justice in the county where the animal is killed. (103 Ind., 80)."

Bulgarian Costumes.

In this land of Bulgaria, so unlike England, except in its green beauty, incongruous reminiscences of Henley regatta and Lord's ground are brought up every moment by the holiday dress of the peasantry, which at a short distance looks like that of our cricketers and oarsmen, writes a London Times correspondent. The men wear trousers of white chaiak, or woolen homespun, red sashes, Oxford blue jackets, and scarlet skullcaps. A group of them on a grassplat makes one look round for the familiar tent, the wickets, and the rival eleven fielding out. The women have a graceful head drapery of Turkish lawn, and their dresses are profusely embroidered with that beautiful crewel work of silk or wool which the Turkish women used to make, but which is made no longer since they left the land. These embroideries are still to be bought fairly cheap; but in a few years the railways will have carried them all off to the West. Already the Bulgarian women are beginning to understand their value, and are putting them away for sale, along with the Turkey carpets, mats, and rich bedcounterpanes which make the interior of so many Bulgarian cottages contrast marvelously with the outside. It is quite a common thing to find in these hovels, grimy with smoke and infested with vermin, hangings and dresses which could be sold for a guinea the square foot in Regent street, and the color of these stuffs is so fine, the material so pure, and the work so good and firm that a little cleaning will make fifty-year-old embroidery look like new. Alas, some apostles of civilization in the form of German bagmen have latterly taught the Bulgarian women that they can mix a little cotton with their wool, and use cheaper material for their dyes, so that even the comfortable white and blue chaiaks, which were warm in winter and light in summer, which kept out rain and rheumatism, which could be darned and redarned and worn down to the thread, are now yielding to textures which, for trade purposes, bear the same name, but of which the properties have nothing in common with the original. It is the German bagman, too, who has brought to Sophia the suits of shoddy that shrink at the touch of water, the printed cotton stuffs of which the colors are warranted fast—that is, fast to disappear; the watches guaranteed for a twelvemonth, and which go for just that length of time—no more; and the gimcrack furniture which limps, turns scaly, will not lock, and misbehaves itself in a dozen other ways in the new houses of the European quarter.

"I played the corpse, sir."—Omaha World.

THE celebrated Chicago sausage machine has been eclipsed. In this machine the pig, it will be recollected, is said to enter at one end and on the whisk of a handle to emerge a sausage. The Vienna papers are making merry over a bet made a day or two ago by a celebrated shoemaker in that city. He undertook from a given calf to manufacture a pair of boots within twenty-four hours of the animal's death. The conditions were made and a committee was appointed to see that they were duly carried out. Large stakes were put into the hands of an impartial stakeholder. Early in the morning of the appointed day a calf was killed in the presence of numerous witnesses. The skin was at the tannery at noon; it was properly tanned and turned over to one of the most skillful hands of the spirited shoemaker that very evening, and next morning it reappered in the shape of a pair of boots, which were worn by the man who owned the calf that had carried the skin on the day before. So many orders have flocked in as a result of the wide publicity given to this event, which veritably marks an epoch in the annals of the boot and shoe trade, that the worthy manufacturer contemplates erecting a slaughter-house on the premises, together with a small cow-shed.

INFLAMMATORY RHEUMATISM

TRIUMPHANT TESTIMONY.

In Spite of Doctors.

My wife (professionally known as Patti Rosa) was taken, while in Hartford, Conn., with severe inflammatory rheumatism, and the doctors said it would be impossible to move her for three weeks. I had given up all hopes, but was persuaded to try St. Jacobs Oil. She began to improve, and was soon able to walk. The doctors said it would only last a short time, but she played that night and did finer than at any time during the season.

For the past four years I have been afflicted with inflammatory rheumatism, which rendered me as helpless as a child, being unable to move without assistance. I had a severe attack of inflammatory rheumatism in both feet and ankles, which swelled up like two cushions, and finally was confined to the house, not being able to take a step. PARIS ART STUDENTS.

LIFE IN THE ATELIERS OF THE FRENCH CAPITAL.

Quiet and Studious When the Master Is Present—Somewhat Boisterous at Other Times—Characteristic Fun.

There is no life like that of the Paris art student. It is unrestrained by conventionality and is full of temptations, but the young fellows who are living it, while they train themselves to be the Millets and the Turners and the Dores of the future, seem to like it amazingly.

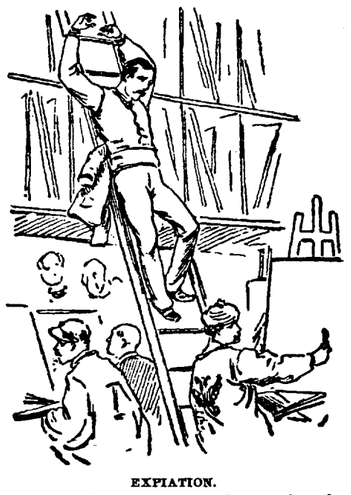

Art teaching, as the uninitiated would understand it, is not. The student who goes to Paris to learn to paint is not coached from the first brush marks on his canvases till the last. He must have enough of the artist within him to render this unnecessary before he will be permitted to study art there at all. But, once he shows that, his teaching doesn't cost him anything—the French government takes care of that, and the only expense he has to bear is that of actual living.

A PICTURE IN THE AIR.

Of course he attaches himself to some atelier, and together with a mob of other students paints there daily. Once a day the master comes in and inspects the work of the students. As he passes down the room he examines the unfinished pictures. To this one he gives a word of advice, the next one he may compliment, though praise is rarely accorded, and the next one may be shown where he has made a glaring error. Then perhaps the master will vouchsafe a few words of instruction to everybody and then he is gone.

Everything has been decorous while the master was present and the students have given close attention to all he has had to say. But they have hardly gotten back to their easels after the little talk which wound up his visit, before a yell of amazement is heard from a spectacled youth, who is covering his canvas with his impressions of some bit of nature in hazy tints. Everybody gives attention to the cry, when it is seen that the young impressionist's half finished picture, easel and all, has started in flight toward the ceiling.

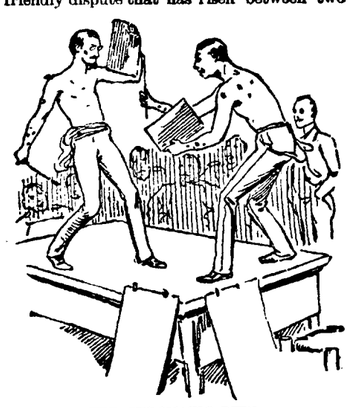

EXPIATION.

Away over in the corner there one may see the cause of the victim's discomfort. Some mischievous comrades have rigged up a rope and block and have played on the youngster a very practical joke indeed.

Over in another part of the great room one may perhaps find a student expiating some infraction of the rules of the place by serving as a model for the rest. Or he may have assumed the position as the result of lot casting. At all events, the young man whose pose is here sketched by the artist cannot be in a very comfortable position, but while he endures the rest are painting, and he may have the satisfaction of seeing the counterfeit of his body in bondage in a picture hung upon the line at the next salon.

By and by a commotion ensues over a friendly dispute that has risen between two young brush wielders and everybody flocks about them. It is soon evident that the disputants will never agree and some one proposes a duel with brushes and paints. A fair hit will of course be a very palpable one and very shortly after the men have stripped and mounted a high improvised platform for the fight, the body of each is marked with chromatic evidences of his opponent's skill.

And so atelier life wags merrily on for the Paris art student. The jokes are sometimes practical to the verge of endurance and the jollity of the place may be seasoned with too much coarseness sometimes, but no great harm is done.

But woe to the sensitive soul who cannot bear the horseplay of the place, for he will surely live to be sorry for his delicacy.

GEN. W. B. HAZEN.

The Chief Signal Officer's Death on Sunday, Jan. 16.

Gen. W. B. Hazen, who died of diabetic coma on Sunday night, has been suffering from diabetes for some years; but his death was not expected by even his most intimate friends until very shortly before it occurred. He contracted a severe cold at the reception to the diplomatic corps given by President Cleveland a few days previous, and though at one time he rallied, he soon found that he must succumb.

THE LATE GEN. HAZEN.

Gen. Hazen was born Sept. 27, 1830, at West Hartford, Windsor county, Vt. While still a boy he went to Ohio with his parents, and was afterward sent to the West Point Military academy from that state. His graduation occurred in June, 1855, and in the ensuing year he served with credit in the Indian war in Oregon. After the close of that war, and until 1860, he was stationed in Texas, with the rank of second lieutenant, acquitting himself honorably. In 1860 he was made assistant professor of infantry tactics at West Point, but resigned that position on the breaking out of the civil war. He first took command of the Forty-second regiment of Ohio volunteers, and served with credit during the rebellion, distinguishing himself in the battles of Stone River, Chicamauga, Mission Ridge, Stottsboro, and during the entire Georgia campaign. In the meantime he had risen, first, to the rank of brigadier general, and afterward to that of major general. At the close of the war he was given command of the Fifteenth army corps by the president of the United States in recognition of his services during the contest. After the war Gen. Hazen was made colonel of the Thirty-eighth Infantry, and was later transferred to the Sixth.

THE SIGNAL OFFICE IN WASHINGTON.

In 1870-71 he visited the seat of the Russo-Turkish war, and on his return he wrote a book on the French and German armies. In 1877 he was sent to Vienna by President Hayes as an attache of the American legation. Between these two trips abroad he was stationed with his regiment at Fort Buford, D. T., and his investigations there led to the revealing of many fraudulent practices and to the disgrace which later fell upon Secretary Belknap.

Gen. Hazen was the author of several books, and, especially in his younger days, wrote quite voluminously for the newspapers. He was appointed chief signal officer in 1880 to succeed Gen. Myers. It was claimed that the appointment was largely due to social influences, and there was some feeling because he, then occupying the rank of colonel, should succeed one who was a major-general. During his incumbency the efficiency of the weather bureau was much increased. He introduced the "cold wave" signals, and the weather predictions became much more accurate under his direction.

He was a rigid disciplinarian, and this led to much bad feeling. When Lieut. Greely was lost in the frozen seas of the north, Gen. Hazen requested Secretary of War Lincoln to send a sealing vessel to the lieutenant's rescue. This the secretary refused to do, and Gen. Hazen was not slow to criticise his superior. This led to a court martial, which was held in 1885, and resulted in the general being reprimanded.

Gen. Hazen has for some time intended to retire from the service, and it was generally understood that Col. Greely would succeed him.

Gen. Hazen was married about fifteen years ago to Miss Mildred McLean, a daughter of Washington McLean, of Cincinnati. Mrs. Hazen and their only son are now in Paris, where they have been for some months.

A correspondent of London Truth suggests that a panorama of the shop windows, with an intelligent lecturer to explain their wonders, might be useful in the country districts. The inference to be drawn from this is that the country shopper cannot read, for a well written advertisement would be quite as useful as a panorama to any one who could read, and would consume much less time in telling its story—Boston Transcript.

The First Keen Twinge.

As the season advances the pains and aches by which rheumatism makes itself known, are experienced after every exposure. It is not claimed that Hood's Sarsaparilla is a specific for rheumatism—we doubt if there is, or can be, such a remedy. But the thousands benefitted by Hood's Sarsaparilla, warrant us in urging others who suffer from rheumatism to take it before the first keen twinge.

KASKINE.

WHAT THE PHYSICIANS SAY ABOUT IT FOR RHEUMATISM, MALARIA, DYSPEPSIA. NERVORS DEBILITY, LIVER, LUNG AND KIDNEY DISEASES.

The eminent and celebrated Dr. Glessner writes:

The Kaskine Co.—DEAR SIRS.—"The first greatest successes I had with Kaskine were in chills and fever, malaria, nervous debility, rheumatism, dyspepsia, and liver diseases and I considered at that time it undoubtedly was the best medicine ever discovered, but I was even then unfamiliar with its really wonderful power in curing all the other germ diseases and disorders, particularly where the blood had become diseased or impoverished and the digestion impaired. Strictly speaking Kaskine is the only blood purifier we have. I use it also very largely with unfailing success in all diseases peculiar to women and children. In over 300 cases I have cured there has never been the slightest bad effect following its use, and it is far superior to any tonic or nerve medicine ever known to the medical profession." Very truly yours,
L. M. GLESSNER, M. D., 340 East 121st St., N.Y.

Prof. W. F. Holcombe, M. D., 54 East 25th St., N. H., (late Prof. in N. Y. Med. College) writes: "Kaskine is superior to quinine in its specific power, and never produces the slightest injury to the hearing or constitution."

The U. S. Examining Surgeon, Dr. L. R. White, writes; "Kaskine is the best medicine made."

St. Francis Hospital, N. Y.:—"Every patient treated with Kaskine has been discharged cured."

Bellevue Hospital, N. Y.:—"Universally successful."

St. Joseph's Hospital, N. Y.:—"Its use is considered indispensable. It acts perfectly."

Kaskine is pleasant to take and can be used without special medical counsel.

Send for the great list of testimonials unparalleled in the history of medicine. $1 per bottle Sold by or sent by mail on receipt of price.

Judge O'Rourke this morning acquitted Wm. Hewitt of the charge of arson. There was no question as to his guilt, but the case brought to the surface some nice legal points. Hewitt was charged with attempting to set fire to the stock of Kyle & Reid. It was clearly proven that Mr. Reid engaged him to do the work and under the law could not be held. It was not charged that he attempted to destroy Mrs. Nill's property, nor that his purpose was to defraud the insurance company, therefore he could not be punished for anticipated offenses, and as there is no law against a man destroying his own property or engaging a man to do so, when he does not infringe on the rights of others, Mr. Hewitt could not be held. The whole question led to a research back into the period when property was held by the governments and when subjects were but holders and tenants.

NO CHANGE.

The Indiana Legislators Ballot Twice Without Avail—Other Legislative News.

INDIANAPOLIS, Jan. 21.—The joint session of the legislature was again without result. Two ballots were taken, the vote standing as heretofore. The convention adjourned.

BILLS BY BOTH MEMBERS.

By Mr. Barratt: To amend section 2533 of the revised statutes, touching the sale of real estate by a guardian.

By Mr. Darroch: Bill to provide for the erection of four soldiers' and sailors' monuments.

By Mr. Shambaugh: A bill concerning drainage. Also: A bill concerning the opening and widening of streets and straightening and deepening of water courses.

THREE LITTLE BILLS SIGNED.

The fruits of legislation thus far are neither rich nor bountiful. Only three measures have gone to the governor for his approval, and these, it will be seen, are not of state importance. The first, of course, was the appropriation bill providing $125,000 for the expenses of the legislative session; another was a bill to regulate the term of court in one of the judicial circuits, and the third, which was presented to the governor this morning, was a bill to legalize the incorporation of the town of Boswell, in Benton county. This measure has been approved by the governor.

GRAY WOULD APPOINT TURPIE.

Governor Gray to-day had something to say respecting the allegation in the Journal that he had been in the hotel lobbies arguing that the dead lock should be continued in order that he might fill the senatorial vacancy by appointment. "I am doing what I can," the governor said, "to elect Judge Turpie to the senate. Should there be no election I shall appoint him. I could not afford to do anything else. He is the nominee of the caucus and the choice of the party."

There are a great many republicans who are lukewarm as to Harrison. Their real choice is ex-Governor Porter, and they will make a break for him as soon as it becomes clear that Harrison's election is out of the question. It is claimed that all four of the Allen men are willing to vote for Porter. Gray, Niblack, Bynum and Holman are being talked of again, and it would not surprise anybody familiar with the situation if some of them should finally secure the prize.

REPRESENTATIVE ROBINSON.

A democrat of prominence says that Robinson has agreed to vote with the Knights of Labor so long as they have a candidate in the field, but that as soon as Allen is retired—if he is—Robinson will vote for Turpie. A brother-in-law of the obstinate Robinson is reported to have remonstrated with him for holding up the entire party by the tail so wearily. "I'm pledged to Allen," said Robinson; "come around when the Knights abandon their man."

Representative Robinson, of Clay, Putnam and Montgomery counties, is commanding more attention in the legislature than anybody else just now. He is serving his third term, and was elected by a combination of greenbackers and democrats. He is a young man, about thirty-five years of age, evidently, slightly built, with "taffy" colored hair and a drooping mustache. His voice is somewhat harsh, and in speaking he wildly gesticulates. Mr. Robinson is a farmer by occupation and an original greenbacker. Circumstances are making him very important person.

RABID OPINION OF A REPUBLICAN ORGAN.

NEW YORK, Jan. 21.—The Tribune this morning says: "The control of the United States senate for two years to come has not been quite sacrificed by the surrender of the Indiana republicans, which seems at this distance to have been entirely inexcusable. It is possible, however, that they have discovered that on account of the course of four labor members it would be impossible to give a valid election to any republican candidate without waiving the right of Lieutenant Governor Robertson. Nothing else is perceived that could excuse so pitiable a backdown from the strong and strictly lawful position taken by the republicans of the house on Tuesday, but the result in Indiana, whatever it may now be, is likely to be contested, and the senate by which the contest will be decided, ought in any case to be a republican body."

LINCOLN, Jan. 21.—In the joint session to-day Hon. A. S. Paddock was chosen United States senator to succeed Van Wyck. The vote was as follows: Paddock, 94; McShane (dem.), 32; Van Wyck, 4.

LEXINGTON, Ky., Jan. 21.—B. J. Treacy, of Ashland Park, has sold to Charles Pratt, of Utica, N. Y., the two-year-old colt, "Repetition," for $5,000.

It is expected that another call for three per cent. bonds will be issued in a few days.

SPRINGFIELD, Jan. 21.—The house of the state assembly passed a bill yesterday appropriating $50,000 for the creation of a monument to Gen. John A. Logan, at Chicago.

BIG FAILURE.

Postmaster Smith, of Sheldon, Fails for Something Like $3,000.

James Smith, the postmaster at Sheldon, this county, confessed judgments this morning in favor of A. C. Treutman for $1,200 and in favor of Frank Shuler for $192.56. Mr. Smith kept a general store at the village and the confessions partially cover the value of his stock. Sheriff Nelson has the keys of the ho use and his deputies will invoice the goods preparatory to their sale at public auction.

Since the above, Meyer Bros. & Co., have obtained a judgment for $321.22 against Mr. Smith and later Mr. W. P. Braen filed suits against the bankrupt postmaster on behalf of Geo. DaWald & Co., for $400 and Skelton & Wolf for $100. Besides the claims enumerated Mr. Smith owes probably $1,000 to other parties, who, of course will proceed against him. His assets are not known.

BOILER EXPLOSION.

One Man Killed and a Boy Fatally Injured—Three Others Wounded.

WASHINGTON, Ind., Jan. 21.—Yesterday morning the boiler in the saw mill of John Norris, twelve miles northeast of this city, burst. John Norris, engineer and owner of the mill, was instantly killed. Elbert Norris, aged eighteen, was fatally injured. Three others were more or less injured. The explosion was caused by allowing the water in the boiler to get low.

On the passage of the inter-state commerce bill, the public may confidently expect a readjustment of business along the Vanderbilt roads between New York and Chicago,—probably the placing of all through freight on the West Shore and Nickel Plate tracks.

Two Burglars Killed While Fleeing From the Officers.

WHITE PLAINS, N. Y., Jan. 21.—The two burglars who killed Williams E. Mead last night came down on the express train, went into Mead's bakery and attempted to rob the young man. They returned the fire, killing one man and mortally wounding the other, who died at 4 o'clock this morning.

Mayor Harrison.

CHICAGO, Jan. 21.—Suit was brought in the superior court this morning against Mayor Harrison to recover damages to the amount of $20,000 for injuries received by Solomon Waixel July 5, 1885. Plaintiff claims he was standing on the sidewalk opposite the mayor's residence, while the latter was exploding fire works, and a portion of some of the pyrotechnics which the mayor was handling in a careless manner, found lodgement in his eye, causing permanent injury.

ONE DEATH

Is Added to the Railroad Strike at Jersey City.

JERSEY CITY, N. J., Jan. 21.—About five o'clock this afternoon a party of boys were playing in an open lot adjoining the yards of the Delaware, Lackawanna & Western railroad company, when a fracas occurred between the boys and Pinkerton's men and Thomas Hogan, 16 years old, a looker-on, was shot and killed by one of Pinkerton's men. The boys were jeering the Pinkerton men, who were stationed in the company's yards to protect property.

The four Pinkerton men arrested last night for killing Thomas Hogan, a sixteen-year-old boy, were arraigned in police court this morning on a charge of murder.

The Delaware, Lackawanna and Washington railroad brought about 100 more men from the west last night to work on the docks here. They have now all they can employ.

A LITTLE ROW.

Dr. Geo. T. Bruebach and His Divorced Wife Have a Quarrel This Morning.

Yesterday afternoon, in the circuit court, Judge O'Rourke granted a decree of divorce to Mrs. Dr. George T. Bruebach from her husband by mutual consent. She was also given $3,600 alimony payable as follows: Six hundred dollars paid over in court and $600 every six months thereafter. Mrs. Bruebach was given permission to assume her former name, Amelia Lindman.

Judge O'Rourke gave Mrs. Bruebach permission to occupy the doctor's house on Clinton street last night. She did not avail herself of that privilege and the doctor instructed his housekeeper to deny her admittance if she called this morning. The lady did call and discovering herself excluded, she promptly smashed in a window and in that way ensconced herself in her former home. The doctor appealed to the sheriff for her expulsion and Deputy Sheriff Schrader was detailed to guard the doctor's premises from his late wife, who is very pretty, but like the doctor has a mind of her own.

Financially, the affairs of the poor old Wabash are in more of a muddle, it is stated, than ever. A Righteous Decision.

Chief Justice Zollars, of the supreme court, rendered the following decision in regard to the killing of stock by a railroad and damages therefor:

"Action for damages for the killing of a horse by the railroad company's locomotive. It was shown by the evidence in behalf of appellee that at the point where the horse went on the track and was killed the road was not securely fenced. The burden was then for the company to show, in order to escape liability, that at that point it was not bound to maintain fences. (101 Ind., 597). Such an action may be brought before any justice in the county where the animal is killed. (103 Ind., 80)."

Bulgarian Costumes.

In this land of Bulgaria, so unlike England, except in its green beauty, incongruous reminiscences of Henley regatta and Lord's ground are brought up every moment by the holiday dress of the peasantry, which at a short distance looks like that of our cricketers and oarsmen, writes a London Times correspondent. The men wear trousers of white chaiak, or woolen homespun, red sashes, Oxford blue jackets, and scarlet skullcaps. A group of them on a grassplat makes one look round for the familiar tent, the wickets, and the rival eleven fielding out. The women have a graceful head drapery of Turkish lawn, and their dresses are profusely embroidered with that beautiful crewel work of silk or wool which the Turkish women used to make, but which is made no longer since they left the land. These embroideries are still to be bought fairly cheap; but in a few years the railways will have carried them all off to the West. Already the Bulgarian women are beginning to understand their value, and are putting them away for sale, along with the Turkey carpets, mats, and rich bed-counterpanes which make the interior of so many Bulgarian cottages contrast marvelously with the outside. It is quite a common thing to find in these hovels, grimy with smoke and infested with vermin, hangings and dresses which could be sold for a guinea the square foot in Regent street, and the color of these stuffs is so fine, the material so pure, and the work so good and firm that a little cleaning will make fifty-year-old embroidery look like new. Alas, some apostles of civilization in the form of German bagmen have latterly taught the Bulgarian women that they can mix a little cotton with their wool, and use cheaper material for their dyes, so that even the comfortable white and blue chaiaks, which were warm in winter and light in summer, which kept out rain and rheumatism, which could be darned and redarned and worn down to the thread, are now yielding to textures which, for trade purposes, bear the same name, but of which the properties have nothing in common with the original. It is the German bagman, too, who has brought to Sophia the suits of shoddy that shrink at the touch of water, the printed cotton stuffs of which the colors are warranted fast—that is, fast to disappear; the watches guaranteed for a twelvemonth, and which go for just that length of time—no more; and the gimcrack furniture which limps, turns scaly, will not lock, and misbehaves itself in a dozen other ways in the new houses of the European quarter.

Omaha Theater Manager—Want a free pass, eh? I can't see why I should give you a pass.

Seedy Applicant—I am a tragedian, sir.

"Oh! come, now."

"I played in 'King Henry,' sir, in New York City."

"Humph! You might possibly walk through a part, but a man of your temperament could never put any soul into it, and—"

"I didn't walk through it, sir, and I did put all the soul into the part that it required. Not a paper said otherwise."

"Well! well! I thought I was a pretty good judge of actors, but—by the way, what part did you play?"

"I played the corpse, sir."—Omaha World.

THE celebrated Chicago sausage machine has been eclipsed. In this machine the pig, it will be recollected, is said to enter at one end and on the whisk of a handle to emerge a sausage. The Vienna papers are making merry over a bet made a day or two ago by a celebrated shoemaker in that city. He undertook from a given calf to manufacture a pair of boots within twenty-four hours of the animal's death. The conditions were made and a committee was appointed to see that they were duly carried out. Large stakes were put into the hands of an impartial stakeholder. Early in the morning of the appointed day a calf was killed in the presence of numerous witnesses. The skin was at the tannery at noon; it was properly tanned and turned over to one of the most skillful hands of the spirited shoemaker that very evening, and next morning it reappeared in the shape of a pair of boots, which were worn by the man who owned the calf that had carried the skin on the day before. So many orders have flocked in as a result of the wide publicity given to this event, which veritably marks an epoch in the annals of the boot and shoe trade, that the worthy manufacturer contemplates erecting a slaughter house on the premises, together with a small cow-shed.

ST. JACOBS OIL

INFLAMMATORY RHEUMATISM

TRIUMPHANT TESTIMONY.

In Spite of Doctors.

My wife (professionally known as Patti Rosa) was taken, while in Hartford, Conn., with nerve inflammatory rheumatism, and the doctors said it would be impossible to move her for three weeks. I had given up all hopes, but was persuaded to try St. Jacobs Oil. She began to improve, and was soon able to walk. The doctors said it would only last a short time, but she played that night and did finer than at any time during the season.

I have suffered for five years with inflammatory rheumatism. Have been to Hot Springs, Ark., and Mount Clemens Springs, Mich., and failed to effect a cure. For the past four years I have been afflicted with inflammatory rheumatism, which rendered me as helpless as a child, being unable to move without assistance. I had a severe attack of inflammatory rheumatism in both feet and ankles, which swelled up like two cushions, and finally was confined to the house, not being able to take a step. PARIS ART STUDENTS.

LIFE IN THE ATELIERS OF THE FRENCH CAPITAL.

Quiet and Studious When the Master Is Present—Somewhat Boisterous at Other Times—Characteristic Fun.

There is no life like that of the Paris art student. It is unrestrained by conventionality and is full of temptations, but the young fellows who are living it, while they train themselves to be the Millets and the Turners and the Dores of the future, seem to like it amazingly.

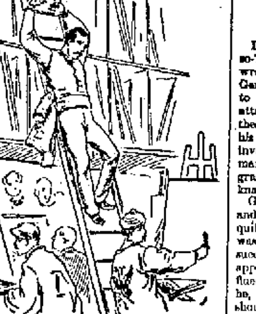

Art teaching, as the uninitiated would understand it, is not. The student who goes to Paris to learn to paint is not coached from the first brush marks on his canvases till the last. He must have enough of the artist within him to render this unnecessary before he will be permitted to study art there at all. But, once he shows that, his teaching doesn't cost him anything—the French government takes care of that, and the only expense he has to bear is that of actual living.

A PICTURE IN THE AIR.

Of course he attaches himself to some atelier, and together with a mob of other students paints there daily. Once a day the master comes in and inspects the work of the students. As he passes down the room he examines the unfinished pictures. To this one he gives a word of advice, the next one he may compliment, though praise is rarely accorded, and the next one may be shown where he has made a glaring error. Then perhaps the master will vouchsafe a few words of instruction to everybody and then he is gone.

Everything has been decorous while the master was present and the students have given close attention to all he has had to say. But they have hardly gotten back to their easels after the little talk which wound up his visit, before a yell of amazement is heard from a spectacled youth, who is covering his canvas with his impressions of some bit of nature in hazy tints. Everybody gives attention to the cry, when it is seen that the young impressionist's half finished picture, easel and all, has started in flight toward the ceiling.

Away over in the corner there one may see the cause of the victim's discomfort. Some mischievous comrades have rigged up a rope and block and have played on the youngster a very practical joke indeed.

Over in another part of the great room one may perhaps find a student expiating some infraction of the rules of the place by serving as a model for the rest. Or he may have assumed the position as the result of lot casting. At all events, the young man whose pose is here sketched by the artist cannot be in a very comfortable position, but while he endures the rest are painting, and he may have the satisfaction of seeing the counterfeit of his body in bondage in a picture hung upon the line at the next salon.

By and by a commotion ensues over a friendly dispute that has risen between two young brush wielders and everybody flocks about them. It is soon evident that the disputants will never agree and some one proposes a duel with brushes and paints. A fair bit will of course be a very palpable one and very shortly after the men have stripped and mounted a high improvised platform for the fight, the body of each is marked with chromatic evidences of his opponent's skill.

And so atelier life wags merrily on for the Paris art student. The jokes are sometimes practical to the verge of endurance and the jollity of the place may be seasoned with too much coarseness sometimes, but no great harm is done.

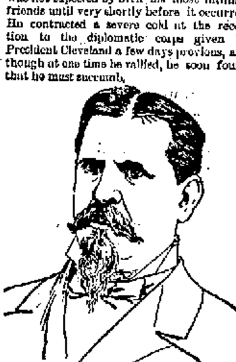

But woe to the sensitive soul who cannot bear the horseplay of the place, for he will surely live to be sorry for his delicacy.

GEN. W. B. HAZEN.

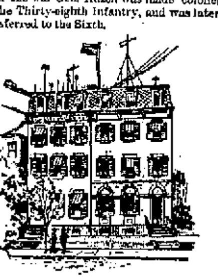

The Chief Signal Officer's Death on Sunday, Jan. 16.

Gen. W. B. Hazen, who died of diabetic coma on Sunday night, has been suffering from diabetes for some years; but his death was not expected by even his most intimate friends until very shortly before it occurred. He contracted a severe cold at the reception to the diplomatic corps given by President Cleveland a few days previous, and though at one time he rallied, he soon found that he must succumb.

THE LATE GEN. HAZEN.

Gen. Hazen was born Sept. 27, 1830, at West Hartford, Windsor county, Vt. While still a boy he went to Ohio with his parents, and was afterward sent to the West Point Military academy from that state. His graduation occurred in June, 1855, and in the ensuing year he served with credit in the Indian war in Oregon. After the close of that war, and until 1860, he was stationed in Texas, with the rank of second lieutenant, acquitting himself honorably. In 1860 he was made assistant professor of infantry tactics at West Point, but resigned that position on the breaking out of the civil war. He first took command of the Forty-second regiment of Ohio volunteers, and served with credit during the rebellion, distinguishing himself in the battles of Stone River, Chicamauga, Mission Ridge, Stottsboro, and during the entire Georgia campaign. In the meantime he had risen, first, to the rank of brigadier general, and afterward to that of major general. At the close of the war he was given command of the Fifteenth army corps by the president of the United States in recognition of his services during the contest. After the war Gen. Hazen was made colonel of the Thirty-eighth Infantry, and was later transferred to the Sixth.

THE SIGNAL OFFICE IN WASHINGTON.

In 1870-71 he visited the seat of the Russo-Turkish war, and on his return he wrote a book on the French and German armies. In 1877 he was sent to Vienna by President Hayes as an attache of the American legation. Between these two trips abroad he was stationed with his regiment at Fort Buford, D. T., and his investigations there led to the revealing of many fraudulent practices and to the disgrace which later fell upon Secretary Belknap.

Gen. Hazen was the author of several books, and, especially in his younger days, wrote quite voluminously for the newspapers. He was appointed chief signal officer in 1880 to succeed Gen. Myers. It was claimed that the appointment was largely due to social influences, and there was some feeling because he, then occupying the rank of colonel, should succeed one who was a major-general. During his incumbency the efficiency of the weather bureau was much increased. He introduced the "cold wave" signals, and the weather predictions became much more accurate under his direction.

He was a rigid disciplinarian, and this led to much bad feeling. When Lieut. Greely was lost in the frozen seas of the north, Gen. Hazen requested Secretary of War Lincoln to send a sealing vessel to the lieutenant's rescue. This the secretary refused to do, and Gen. Hazen was not slow to criticise his superior. This led to a court martial, which was held in 1885, and resulted in the general being reprimanded.

Gen. Hazen has for some time intended to retire from the service, and it was generally understood that Col. Greely would succeed him.

Gen. Hazen was married about fifteen years ago to Miss Mildred McLean, a daughter of Washington McLean, of Cincinnati. Mrs. Hazen and their only son are now in Paris, where they have been for some months.

A correspondent of London Truth suggests that a panorama of the shop windows, with an intelligent lecturer to explain their wonders, might be useful in the country districts. The inference to be drawn from this is that the country shopper cannot read, for a well written advertisement would be quite as useful as a panorama to any one who could read, and would consume much less time in telling its story.—Boston Transcript.

The First Keen Twinge.

As the season advances the pains and aches by which rheumatism makes itself known, are experienced after every exposure. It is not claimed that Hood's Sarsaparilla is a specific for rheumatism—we doubt if there is, or can be, such a remedy. But the thousands benefitted by Hood's Sarsaparilla, warrant us in urging others who suffer from rheumatism to take it before the first keen twinge.

THE NEW QUININE. KASKINE.

WHAT THE PHYSICIANS SAY ABOUT IT FOR RHEUMATISM,

MALARIA, DYSPEPSIA.

NERVOUS DEBILITY,

LIVER, LUNG AND KIDNEY DISEASES,

The eminent and celebrated Dr. Glessner writes:

The Kaskine Co.—DEAR SIRS,—"The first greatest successes I had with Kaskine were in chills and fever, malaria, nervous debility, rheumatism, dyspepsia, and liver diseases and I considered at that time it undoubtedly was the best medicine ever discovered, but I was even then unfamiliar with its really wonderful powers in curing all the other form diseases and disorders, particularly where the blood had become diseased or impoverished and the digestion impaired. Strictly speaking Kaskine is the only blood purifier we have. I use it also very largely with unfailing success in all diseases peculiar to women and children. In over 300 cases I have cured there has never been the slightest bad effect following its use, and it is far superior to any tonic or nerve medicine ever known to the medical profession." Very truly yours,
L. M. GLESSNER, M. D., 350 East 121st St., N.Y.

Prof. W. F. Holcombe, M. D., 54 East 25th St., N. Y., (late Prof. in N. Y. Med. College) writes: "Kaskine is superior to quinine in its specific power, and never produces the slightest injury to the hearing or constitution."

The U. S. Examining Surgeon, Dr. L. R. White, writes: "Kaskine is the best medicine made."

St. Francis Hospital, N. Y.:—"Every patient treated with Kaskine has been discharged cured."

Bellevue Hospital, N. Y.:—"Universally successful."

St. Joseph's Hospital, N. Y.:—"Its use is considered indispensable. It acts perfectly."

Kaskine is pleasant to take and can be used without special medical advice.

Send for the great list of testimonials unparalleled in the history of medicine. $1 per bottle. Sold by or sent by mail on receipt of price.

FRUIT HOUSE PRICES FOR '87

Quite a change has taken place in a great many goods the last sixty days, the tendency being in most cases upwards. This is the case, especially in Coffee and Dried Fruits, Sugars, Teas, Syrups, Spices and Tobaccos, have not advanced, but from indications they will.
It will pay our customers to purchase liberally.
We have just received forty hogsheads of choice New Orleans Sugar.

A nice yellow Sugar which we are selling at 4½c. This is the lowest price such sugars have ever been sold at.

Sugars—White, Brown and Yellow New Orleans.

No advance on them. Choice yellow, 5c; best standard A coffee white, 6c crushed, powdered and granulated, 6½c; choice yellow New Orleans, 4½c.

NO ADVANCE ON TEAS,

Yet they will not likely remain at such low prices in the face of the late advance on Coffee. We continue to maintain our prestige in the Tea trade. Our trade has grown immensely in that line. People have no longer to send off to purchase their Teas. In order to save money we keep up the plan of buying large lots of the importers and re-selling direct to our customers at a small profit, thereby saving to our customers the intermediate profits of jobber and wholesale dealer—which is not less than 10 to 20c.

Good, 15c per pound; choice, 30c; best, 50c. Imperial tea—Green, good, 30c; best, 50c. Gunpowder tea, 30c; best, 50c. Oolong or Black tea, 20c, 30c; best, 50c; Japan tea, 20c, 30c; best, 50c. Above prices on teas are the lowest on record and the best teas are of the highest quality—no better anywhere—the other grades are good, sweet, drawing teas and will please the most fastidious tea drinkers. Just give them a trial and satisfy yourself.

Coffee—Rio, Java and Roasted.

Best Rio coffee, 15c, per pound; best roasted Rio, 18c per pound; German coffee, 20c per pound; Housekeepers' Choice, 22c per pound; roasted Java, 25c per pound.

It was not charged that he attempted to destroy Mrs. Nill's property, nor that his purpose was to defraud theinsurance company, therefore he could not be punished for anticipated offenses, and as there is no law against a man destroying his own property or engaging a man to do so, when he does not infringe on the rights of others, Mr. Hewitt could not be held. The whole question led to a research back into the period when property was held by the governments and when subjects were but holders and tenants.
